Red Forces Resist Fiercely On West Korean Front

Wildcat Strike Is Reported As Still Spreading

President's Appeal Fails To Bring End To Walkouts

(BULLETIN)

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Striking railroad switchmen extended their wildcat walk-out today in defiance of a presidential back to work appeal and an army spokesman declared grimly "the railroad system of the United States virtually is paralyzed."

The spokesman, concerned over tieups of Korea-bound war supplies in freight yards, said reports indicate the nationwide strike situation worsened after Truman warned that the strike is "directly injuring our national security."

Makes New Inroads

The five day old strike made new inroads into the nation's economy as the government, which is in control of the roads, moved against the "sick call" strike in Chicago federal court and in Washington.

In the capital the National Mediation Board scheduled separate sessions with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and management.

In Washington, brotherhood officials angrily replied to the president's charges that they had acted in bad faith by declaring that "it is clearly indicated that the president has not the slightest conception of what this is all about."

"The reason being," the said, "that he has not been given the facts or the truth."

Furloughed Workers Increase

Industry's furloughs of workers totaled up to more than 300,000 as the freight tieup choked off the flow of steel, coal and raw materials. Steel production is hard.

Frigid weather in this locality this morning brought a wide variety of thermometer readings in New Castle and Lawrence County. They ranged anywhere from a degree or two above zero to as much as 16 and 18 below, according to reports heard by Pa News.

Owen Fox, City Forester, reports that one of the most beautiful scenes he has ever beheld, has been painted by the hand of nature at Gaston and Cascade Parks. The trees and shrubs are coated with ice with enough snow resting on the branches to make them sparkle as if a thousand diamonds emitting their brilliance in the sunlight.

Several reports have reached Pa News' desk concerning an avalanche of robins descending on the district. Mrs. K. E. Chandler of R. D. 1, Edenburg, reported that 50 were on their property eating the apples left on the trees, while Walter Myers of Laurel Blvd., discovered 14 on his property. Twenty-five were noted on The Cathedral lawn and a pair turned up at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. Lee Mellinger, 406 Laurel Blvd., for breakfast.

Towing and pushing seems to be the usual item of business rather than the unusual over the past few days with motorists. Many cars have refused to turn over with the starter and tow trucks or kind neighbors have been called into action to get the vehicles going.

Repairing snapped utility wires seems to be about one of the coldest jobs locally. The ice coated (Continued on Page Two)

Fund Mounts To $17,474 With Reports On Friday Night

Subscriptions to the $40,000 Greater New Castle Association expansion fund campaign climbed to $17,474 today following last night's report meeting when $5,427 in new contributions was turned in.

Approximately 50 workers gathered in the room of the Castle-ton hotel for the second report meeting of the campaign. One more report meeting has been scheduled. This meeting will be held Thursday night at 7:30 in the recreation hall of the United Engineering company when the workers will be guests of the company.

With only six days left, it means that $22,526 or about 57 per cent of the goal will have to be subscribed in that time in order to raise the $40,000 urgently needed to carry on the work of the association. To date only about one-fourth of the prospect cards taken by workers have been reported on.

Two Inch Snowfall At St. Augustine Florida, Reported

(By International News Service)

Cold weather that numbed the mid continent all week spread to the east and south today, tumbling the temperature in Miami to a chilly 40 and dropping two inches of snow on St. Augustine, Fla., the nation's oldest city.

Warmer temperatures thawed the chilled Rocky mountains, the plains states and the upper Mississippi valley. Readings in those areas ranged from 20 to 30 degrees higher than yesterday morning.

Early today it was 8 below zero in Nashville, Tenn.; the same in Columbus, O.; thirteen above in Baltimore and 19 above in Boston. New Orleans reported 21, Omaha, 23, Denver, 30, Bismark, N. D., 23, and Oklahoma City 22.

Fuel shortages born of the extended cold and the railroad switchmen's strike plagued some areas.

Lone Unarmed U.S. Plane Attacked

U. S. FIFTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 3.—(INS)—A lone unarmed American photo-reconnaissance plane was attacked today by 15 to 20 Russian-type Mig-15 jets today and escaped by outmaneuvering the enemy craft.

Fifth Airforce headquarters reported the attack took place in far northwest Korea—known to American pilots as "Mig Alley." The American pilot, Capt. John Monaghan of Sumter, S. C., was flying a Shooting Star jet on his reconnaissance mission and was unarmed.

Will Dedicate Memorial To Four Chaplains

President Truman To Share Ceremony At Philadelphia

By ROBERT G. NIXON

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Truman today joins in the dedication of a lasting memorial to the four chaplains of World War II who traded their lives to save four GI's on the torpedoed troopship Dorchester.

The President, with hundreds looking on, will formally dedicate a $300,000 chapel to the heroic men of God in Philadelphia's Grace Baptist Temple at 3:45 p. m., EST. The chapel, honoring two Protestant ministers, a Catholic priest and a Rabbi is built so that services of all religions may be held there.

Leaves At Noon

Accompanied by several members of his staff, including his armed services aides, Mr. Truman left Philadelphia at 12:15 p. m., EST, and would arrive at the North Philadelphia Station at 2:45 p. m. He plans to leave soon after the ceremony and be back in Washington shortly after 6 o'clock.

Dominating the solemn ceremony in the new chapel will be a mural depicting the sinking of the Dorchester in February, 1943, on a voyage through the North Atlantic.

The four chaplains, who stripped off their lifebelts and handed them to their soldier shipmates were the (Continued on Page Two)

Murray And Green Confer With Truman

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The AFL and CIO chiefs conferred with President Truman today on wage stabilization amid warnings by top union leaders that a "chaotic" wave of strikes will sweep the nation unless the government decontrols frozen wage negotiations.

CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green conferred with Mr. Truman at the White House and told newsmen later they had discussed the general subject of wage stabilization and rising living costs.

Neither labor leader would comment further on the talks and said that anything regarding the conference with the President should come from the White House.

Eight Persons Burn To Death

DILLARD, Ga., Feb. 3.—(INS)—Seven children and the father of four of them were burned to death today when fire completely demolished a one story frame dwelling in Dillard.

Six persons escaped, one little girl being injured when she jumped through a window.

Sheriff Raymond Queen said the victims apparently were trapped when a window, closed against the four degree weather, jammed. Their bodies were found piled together in a corner.

The dead were identified as Edgar Teague, of Canton, N. C., four of his children, and three children of John Talley, a farmer who was in Dillard at the time of the blaze. Mrs. Talley escaped the flames.

The fire was thought to have been started when a stove overturned.

The Teagues were visiting in Dillard.

Italian Premier To Come To Washington To Visit Truman

ROME, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Rome newspapers reported today that Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi will visit President Truman in Washington at the end of this month.

De Gasperi was said to be planning the trip after he confers with French Premier Rene Pleven on the Italian Riviera in a three-day meeting scheduled for February 12 to February 14.

Pleven has just concluded talks with Mr. Truman and other American officials on European defense matters.

Plan To Start Hearings On Truman's Tax Program

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Prospects for swift enactment of President Truman's 10 billion dollar tax increase program do not appear good today.

Congressional leaders anticipated prolonged hearings by the house ways and means committee, which will start the ball rolling Monday with Treasury Secretary Snyder as the first witness.

Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.), said 40 persons have already requested to be heard and the committee will just "run on" for awhile before setting a limit on the hearings. Lengthy executive sessions are anticipated after the witnesses are heard.

Sharp Differences

There is sharp difference of opinion within the committee over the president's recommendations. Rep. Reed of N. Y., top-ranking committee Republican, is opposed to the president's "installment" program of raising 10 billion dollars now and another 6½ billions later.

The president in his tax message to congress said the country faces (Continued on Page Two)

Speculation On New A-Weapon

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 3.—(INS)—There was speculation today in wake of the latest atomic test northwest of Las Vegas that scientists have perfected an A-weapon that causes little or quickly dissipating radioactive contamination.

The speculation arose from an atomic energy commission announcement a few hours after yesterday's explosion on the 5,000 square mile Indian Springs test range. The blast was the most violent of four this week.

An AEC spokesman said that at 8 a. m., or two hours and five minutes after the detonation, planes from the Nellis Air Force Base were able to engage in gunnery practice on a range adjacent to the explosion.

He made a point of mentioning that this resumption of flight operations took place several hours earlier than after the three previous tests. But he did not go into detail as to the significance, if any, of the statement.

It was presumed that yesterday's test and the one of the day before were of particular importance. They were observed by some of (Continued on Page Two)

Convict Sixteen Of Plot Against Marshal Tito

BELGRADE, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Sixteen men were convicted today by a Yugoslav military court of plotting to overthrow Marshal Tito, and one of the defendants was condemned to die before a firing squad.

The death sentence was meted out to Dushan, Ilich, who admitted he had planned to overthrow Tito's Communist regime in favor of former King Peter.

The others, including Dr. Kosta Kumanud and Velja Popovich, cabinet ministers before World War II, received sentences ranging from six years to life in prison. All stood silent while the sentences were read.

Krupp And 32 Others Given Jail Release

FRANKFURT, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Former munitions maker Alfred Krupp emerged today from Landsberg prison with 28 other pardoned German war criminals and exclaimed "finally."

The man who had been found guilty of supplying Hitler's war machine and served four years of a 12 year sentence was met by his brother outside the prison.

Relatives of the others staged happy reunions at the gates. Four others who won their freedom on decisions handed down Wednesday by American authorities were set free last night because of illness.

33 Released

All 33 were released as a result of decisions following a review of their cases by Gen. Thomas T. Handy, U. S. commander in chief in Europe, and American High Commissioner John J. McCloy.

Sentences were lessened in scores of cases reviewed. A total of 21 out of 28 Nazi war criminals sentenced to death won commutations to life imprisonment.

Handy and McCloy made it clear that revision of the sentences were acts of clemency and that the original sentences passed by the U. S. Army and American military government tribunals were not questioned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The Defense department announced today that 136,188 North Koreans had been captured in the fighting in Korea up to Jan. 10.

The department released no figures on the number of Chinese Communists who have been captured.

The announcement said that 44 percent of the Red Korean "cold weather casualties" have required "some form of amputation."

U.N. Forces Are Within Seven Miles Of Seoul

Some Gains Made By U.N. Troops In Face Of Resistance

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 4.—(SUNDAY)

—United Nations troops battled against fiercely-resisting Communist forces on the West Korean front Saturday to make gains of slightly more than a mile and beat off at least two Red counter-thrusts.

Fighting raged through the day and into the night on the left flank as Red troops, unmindful of huge casualties, tried without success to nullify Allied gains in the area between Seoul and Suwon.

A front dispatch for International News Service War Correspondent Frank Conniff reported just before midnight Saturday (10 a. m. EST) that two strong Red counter-attacks were repulsed. Conniff previously reported the Reds launched three counter-blows in the same general area and the issue in the third was apparently still in doubt.

To the northwest of Suwon, UN Armed spearheads pushed within seven miles of the Red-held capital of Seoul after overrunning the town of Anyang.

Along the central and eastern fronts contact with the enemy was light but unconfirmed reports indicated a possible Red buildup of troops and supplies was in progress.

On the western flank enemy soldiers were mowed down by the hundreds by slashing air strikes and ground artillery barrages.

How We Shivered When We Heard The Weather Report

Ye reporter gasped this morning when the weather report was received from the U. S. weather observing station, reporting a cold mark of 14 below zero during the night and when he expressed incredulity, he was invited out to the water works, where the temperature recordings are taken, to look over the situation. He was assured that two very reliable thermometers right at that moment (9 a. m.) were standing at 12 below zero, and that a heavy frost coated everything in that vicinity.

Being in a nice warm place, and having lost all desire for winter, he tactfully declined the invitation. In fact, ye aforesaid reporter, along with a lot of other folks (call us pantywaists if you will) will be satisfied if we never see another winter of this kind.

So if your thermometer didn't get much below zero when you viewed it this morning, maybe some quick in atmospheric conditions caused it to be colder out along the Shenango river than where you reside. That's the report that is going in to the U. S. weather department, and you'll just have to accept it.

I like Monday morning and Tuesday too, at the rest of the week is all right, I like all the days but there's one stands out and that one is Saturday night. A chance to have friends in your living room, or maybe a dinner date, for next morning is Sunday and there's the chance to sleep just a little bit late. Not too late ye ken, but an hour or so, for a fellow must be away to the church at his choice for the morning text. It's 20 today.

Pre-Easter S.S. Contest Opens Sunday Morning

Sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and the New Castle Superintendents' Council, the 1951 pre-Easter attendance contest will get under way Sunday morning in over 100 Sunday schools of New Castle and Lawrence county.

The contest, which is of eight weeks duration, annually attracts much attention throughout the area and many schools make elaborate plans to attain higher attendance during the period by conducting competitive programs within the Sunday schools and between the classes to swell the attendance figures.

The general plan again this year is essentially the same as in previous years with the exception that reports are to be mailed to Miss Mary Nord of Bessemer, who will compile the statistics weekly and they will be published in The News. Cards have been provided on which to put the various schools' standing in the contest.

The contest is based on attendance of scholars, teachers and general officers and church attendance. The concluding day of the contest is Easter Sunday, March 25. The following groups are listed: Group A, 100 members or less; Group B, 101 to 200; Group C, 201 to 300; Group D, 301 to 400; Group E, over 400 members. Recognition and award will be given the school leading each group.

Points are determined by percentage of enrollment attending Sunday school and church, using enrollment figures as above. All departments of the Sunday school except inactive cradle roll and home departments are included in enrollment. Attendance of a visitor counts as a member.

Questions arising during the contest should be referred to district president, or contest committee which follows: James Aiken, Dorris Fulman, Charles Elliott, William Hedgcock, Frank Willey, Mildred McElwain, G. C. Dennis, Paul Weller, Elmer Badger and R. W. Kendall.

Commuter service is cut sharply in New York, Chicago and other cities. In terminals throughout the country bags of mail are piled up to the ceilings.

Take Depositions

In an unprecedented all-night session in Chicago, U. S. Attorney Otto Kerner, Jr., and aides took depositions from 35 supervisory rail employees preparatory to going before Judge Michael Loe for a showdown battle over contempt charges brought against the BRT.

The government announced late last night that it will reopen the citation hearing this morning. Earlier Wednesday it had won a continuation until next Friday.

Kerner said he will call as witnesses supervisory personnel who took over switchmen's jobs during a similar work stoppage last December and ask them to name the men they replaced.

The government will try to show that a conspiracy to strike existed. The BRT was under court injunction not to strike at that time. The same injunction still is in force and the brotherhood now faces a total of four contempt actions in Chicago, Washington and Cleveland.

So far, Republican legislative leaders who have met with the governor during the interim, have not hidden their impressions that Fine's strategy appears to call for picking up needed new revenue via the increased tax returns from Pennsylvania's defense-accelerated industries.

The only definite announcement to come out of the series of conferences held during the interim was to assure Pennsylvanians that civil defense legislation will be given the green light immediately after work is resumed in the House and Senate.

Congressional reapportionment, teachers' salary legislation, fair employment practices proposals and public welfare proposals will be high on the legislature's list during the next few months.

General Discussion

A general discussion of ways and means to accelerate the campaign was held following the division reports, led by Richard E. Rentz, general chairman, who presided at the meeting. It was the consensus that the goal could be reached in the time scheduled if workers who have not as yet reported subscriptions would make their personal calls and complete their work.

In a plea to "get the job done and provide GNCA with the funds and the membership it must have," Mr. Rentz said: "Time is running out if everyone who has accepted responsibility in the task of obtaining these subscriptions buckles down and makes a sincere effort to interview the persons whose names he or she has chosen for solicitation."

"The membership contributions that are being asked are small indeed when broken down in terms of weekly amounts. To person who is asked to contribute $25 for a membership it means about seven cents a day or 50 cents a week. Businesses and industries whose fair share runs from $100 to $1,000 in this project certainly should not hesitate to take their place alongside others of the community who want to build a greater New Castle."

He thanked McCabe for the board's pledge of "full cooperation" on the government's mobilization fiscal policy.

Increases Wanted

Mr. Truman wants individual income taxes increased by four billion dollars annually, corporation taxes three billions and excise taxes three billions.

Snyder will furnish the details of the administration's tax program. It may call for a four percent point increase in present 20 to 91 per cent individual income tax rates and eight percent points in the maximum 47 per cent corporation income levy.

The president wants the present $600 income tax exemptions figure for the taxpayer and his dependents left unchanged because of the big increase in the cost of living. The husband-wife joint return plan, which sometimes saves money, is also expected to be retained.

Thermometers took another plunge during the night. Edwin Johnson of the Perry highway at Harlanburg looked at his thermometer at 3 a. m. today and reports it registered 22 below. It is hanging on a tree out in the open.

That old saying, "As the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen," is really being born out this winter. However, one consolation we have is the fact that every day now brings us nearer to Spring, which is only 46 days away.

Pa Newc notes that a lot of motorists are still driving cars around which were covered with sleet during the storm Thursday. The only vision they have is through little peep holes in the front windshield window. How they escape having accidents is a mystery.

Many more motorists have never cleaned the snow off their back windows. All these things are required by law.

James McWilliams, Laurel boulevard, reports to Pa Newc that he saw seven robins in his backyard on Friday morning.

U.N. FORCES SEVEN MILES FROM SEOUL

que said ground forces alone killed or wounded 5,760 Communist soldiers Friday in repulsing a series of Red counter-attacks which continued into Saturday.

Planes Disable Hundreds

Allied planes disabled hundreds more of the enemy troops when they plastered Red troops concentrations with fire-bombs, rockets and machine-gun fire in support of ground forces.

Conniff reported that reinforced Communist units counter-attacked at three points below Seoul Saturday night. He said Turkish troops, holding high ground ten miles northwest of Suwon, came under heavy machine-gun, mortar and artillery fire. The Communists made similar counter-thrusts at points nine and 11 miles northwest of Suwon.

Light B-26 bombers staged a "saturation" bombing of an enemy troop and supply concentration three miles square on Seoul's southern outskirts. The B-26s dropped 500-pound bombs and were followed up by 24 Mustangs which sent rockets and fire-bombs hurtling into the enemy ranks. The fighter then gave the area a thorough strafing.

Results of the strike were described officially as "excellent." Below Seoul, on the western flank of the UN offensive, patrols reached a point within seven miles of the Han river bend forming the southern limit of the capital near the area where the planes struck.

Blast Truck Traffic

Other B-26s hit enemy entrenchments eight miles south of Seoul and also blasted Red truck traffic which was described as "abnormally heavy" in North Korea Friday night and early Saturday.

From the central front came reports indicating a Chinese Communist buildup four miles northwest of the Sinchon Railroad tunnel area, 35 miles east-southeast of Seoul. It was here that French and American troops mauled two Chinese regiments Thursday forcing them to withdraw. An estimated 3,600 casualties were inflicted on the Chinese troops in this engagement.

International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne told of the possible Chinese buildup in a dispatch from the central front. He said, however, that a U. S. Tenth corps spokesman emphasized that the reports were unconfirmed.

A tank-led patrol seeking enemy forces made the northernmost penetration of Red territory of the current offensive in a thrust above Sinchon. This column reached a point 33 miles east of Seoul and then withdrew after contacting an enemy force.

The patrol actions paved the way for the general advance in the offensive which began ten days ago.

Radioactivity Is Discovered Along East Coast Sectors

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Scientists agreed today that the radioactivity discovered in the east coast atmosphere at least 2-300 miles from the Atomic Energy commission's testing grounds near Las Vegas may last a week.

All reports, however, emphasized that the amount of such radioactivity measured was very slight. Corbin Allredice, A. E. C. Chief of Public Information in New York said the radioactivity in snow at Rochester, N. Y., was "measurable, but not significant."

"There is no possibility of harm to humans, animals or crops," he emphasized.

Such radioactivity has been reported discovered also on Long Island, Chicago, Ottawa, Cincinnati, and Schenectady, N. Y.

At the Brookhaven National laboratory at Upton Long Island, spokesmen said there had been a "slight increase in background noise during the last few days," heard in detectors and measured in the calibration of the detectors for scientific experiment in using radioactive matter.

Rollback In Iron And Steel Scrap Prices Ordered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The government today ordered iron and steel scrap prices rolled back $10 to $60 a ton and top labor leaders conferred with President Truman amid warnings that "chaotic" strikes may result from the wage freeze.

The office of price stabilization directed that specific ceilings be established on iron and steel scrap at the levels prevailing during December. The order is effective next Wednesday.

Price Administrator DiSalle said the rollback was necessary because the general level of iron and steel scrap prices has risen approximately 20 percent since the outbreak of the Korean war because of disparity between supply and steadily increasing demand.

The OPS order will help hold stable the price of steel which constitutes the bulk of the nation's rearmament program. The steel industry consumes about 30 million tons of iron and steel scrap annually.

DiSalle said the rollback order will not impede the flow of steel scrap and Edwin C. Barringer, executive vice president of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, welcomed the action.

Probe Of White House Aide Is Now Demanded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—A Republican senator demanded today that President Truman investigate charges that a White House aide yields "considerable influence" with the government's biggest money-lending agency.

Sen. Capehart (R) Ind. demanded that presidential adviser Donald Dawson "either resign or be fired" as a result of the Senate subcommittee charges that he influenced loan decisions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Subcommittee Chairman Fulbright (D) Ark., and Sen. Douglas (D) Ill., a member, both said the matter was now "up to the President" and they would not make any recommendations.

The RFC denied the charges and from the White House came a terse "no comment," along with the information that Dawson is in Brazil as President Truman's personal representative at the inauguration of President Vargas.

CONQUEST PROGRAM OF RUSSIA

Almost from the day the Germans surrendered, and Eisenhower was making the grand gesture of permitting Russian troops to take over some of the most important parts of conquered territory, the Soviet government has been preparing for war. In fact, while this country was saving Russia from Germany and Washington was engaged in sending $12,000,000,000 in lend lease to Moscow, the Reds refused to permit American military observers to go near the Russian front. When American planes, attacking Japan and Rumania were forced into emergency landings on Russian soil they were interned.

While the United States was dismantling or actually destroying its facilities for military security, Russia was busily engaged in conserving and improving the weapons and equipment which this nation had furnished. To these have been added tanks, guns, airplanes, ships of the latest design—so that now Russia is not only one of the best armed nations in the world, but has been able to equip Chinese Communists as well.

It was no secret to Washington that Russia was carrying on in this manner. Russia's military strength was common knowledge, and published in almost complete detail by American newspapers. But the Truman Administration was more concerned over "weighty matters" which could be resolved into political rather than military strength.

No one in authority seemed to realize the simple fact that if you give an unfriendly neighbor two guns while you have only one, the advantage is all his in case of conflict. While this country was harassed by government-protected strikes, Russia was building planes to an extent which now gives the Reds air supremacy in Europe. While Washington was building dams to make votes, Russia was preparing for a day when communism would be strong enough to challenge the free world.

There is no alternative, but to make the best of a bad situation, while the nation prepares to defend its liberty and at the same time pay for its folly.

DON'T FORGET THE BIRDS

Time was in America when destruction of bird life was carried on with an intenseness that bordered on the fanatic. In the Colonies certain species of birds were condemned as enemies of mankind and bounties were offered to encourage their annihilation.

This purposeful warfare was the result of profound ignorance of birds and their place in the scheme of things. It took a lot of preaching and educating on the part of ornithologists such as Audubon, Baird, Wilson and Warren to convince the federal and state governments that birds are of enormous economic value and should be protected rather than destroyed.

Now, with snow on the ground, life has its difficulties for such birds as stay with us through the winter months. Toss some breadcrumbs on the snow and watch the birds as they show their appreciation of your kindness. Suspend a piece of suet in a place where they can get at it.

Feed the birds in the winter and when summer comes you will have ardent allies in the fight against the unwelcome pests which, if uncontrolled, would reduce our fields and gardens to barren waste. The cost is little; the result is of incalculable value.

A-BOMB IS NOT ENOUGH

Those who hold to the idea that the atomic bomb is all that would be necessary to defeat Russia, are not supported by the opinion of David E. Lilienthal of New York City.

Mr. Lilienthal, as former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, is better able than the average layman to make an appraisal of the value of the atomic bomb as an instrument of war.

The destructive character of the two atomic bombs dropped on Japanese cities in the Second World War have been quite well determined, and its use has been withheld because of its terrible effects.

"As a deterrent the A-bomb has been effective up to now," Mr. Lilienthal said, "but our experience in Korea and common sense make it plain that the bomb has been over-rated in the public mind."

Mr. Lilienthal believes that an atomic attack on Russia would terribly wound that country, but that this method of warfare alone would not bring about a sure defeat in case of war.

"The immediate program of peace should be built upon productivity—the principle that productivity is unlimited—a fundamental but little understood tenet of our American experience," Mr. Lilienthal said.

Astronomers hope to solve the riddle of the universe. Bet they'll find the biggest puzzler of all is this old earth.

A midwestern burglar swiped a stove with a fire in it. We knew it was rugged but didn't realize it was THAT cold!

What ever became of Henry Pu-Yi, puppet emperor of Manchukuo? Seems he'd be a natural—with his experience—for television.

Now that the Stone of Scone and Britannia's bronze sword have been swiped jittery Britons, no doubt, are wondering just how they can put the Rock of Gibraltar under lock and key.

Charges Church Made Tool Of Communism

The Vatican has set before the world today its first concrete charge that the Russian Orthodox church, still allowed to exist ostensibly as a religious body, has become a tool of Communist atheism.

A broadcast over the Holy See's radio station said that the Russian church, under direct orders from the Kremlin, has transformed 40 thousand secret police agents into so-called "priests" within the last 12 months.

The statement went further to say that all of the present bishops of the Orthodox church—numbering 75—are in effect employees of the Soviet ministry of the interior.

In addition, the Vatican said that in high religious Czechoslovakia, the Communist government is creating confusion in the ranks of young priests who very often do not know whether their instructions come from authentic church officials or from Communist party stooges.

This condemnation of Communist tactics with regard to alleged integration of the Russian church into the Soviet "master plan" long has been anticipated.

First Indication

The first definite indication of Russian attempts to utilize religion in furtherance of the Communist campaign came two years ago when prelates reported to the Vatican that Moscow had founded schools of "false theology" in the Polish cities of Lodz and Lvov.

According to evidence presented at the time, young men ripe for indoctrination into militant Communism were matriolated at what formerly were well-established schools of church teaching.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN A BABY IS EXPECTED

Fortunate is the young child whose mother tells him in due time of the expected baby. To tell the child too soon, especially if he is under five or six, may cause him to feel impatient at the long wait.

Usually it is soon enough when the relatives and close friends know without being told. The information can be made very impressive after the baby has begun to move in the mother's body. How wonderful when the child old enough can see the clothes and materials made and assembled in preparation for this baby, the more so if this older child can help a bit in the selection and making of these things; when, moreover, the older child or children can talk in the family privacy about our baby that is coming; and consider the choice of a name for him or her! Usually best values accrue therefrom when all the family enjoy these matters as a family secret among themselves.

My bulletins "A Baby is Expected" and "Undesirable Sex Practices in Children" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamp envelope to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

A Problem

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have a problem on my mind. I would like to ask your advice. We are going to have a new baby in August. I have two other children. My oldest will be 9 in June. Up to this time she has never asked any questions or showed interest in coming babies. She has never asked any questions, so I never had the chance to tell her the truth. She is a very happy child, Dr. Myers. In summer our family has a wonderful time. We do a lot of things together, such as going on picnics, swimming, and hot-dog roasts. It makes us feel young. We enjoy every minute of it, too."

"That is why I feel as if she should be prepared for our coming baby. I would like you to tell me when you think she should be told. Then I am going to sit down and explain everything to her. I intend to let her help me sew and choose the materials for the baby's layette. I want her to feel as if she were taking a part in helping with the baby's things. I haven't told my friends yet because I was afraid one of them would tell her."

I wrote this mother about this fashion: Wonderful are the happy times you all have together in your family! These grand relationships will make your fine purpose to tell your daughter about the expected baby easy to carry through.

Relaxed and Quiet

As soon as movements of the baby are rather pronounced, sit down with the daughter at a relaxed, quiet, comfortable moment, preferably with the father present, and tell her in your own way that she is going to have a baby brother or sister and that it is growing in your body. Have her place her hand on your abdomen to sense the baby's movements. This will make a fine impression on this daughter. Tell her that when the baby has grown enough in your body it will come out of your body or be born and that the doctor will help this child to be born (at the hospital or at home) as the case may be. Tell her about how many weeks or months all of you may have to wait for this time.

Perhaps other mothers would be wise to stimulate questions about where babies come from when the child is much younger than nine. One of the best books on this subject is "Being Born," by Frances Strain, to be found in most public libraries.

State Police Say:

If your car has been stolen and a report of the theft was made to the police, be just as prompt in notifying the police when the car is recovered. Reports of stolen cars are broadcast statewide over the state police teletype system and unless these records are cleared when the car is recovered, you may be detained until satisfactory proof of ownership is established.

well-versed in Marxist philosophy and propaganda, these students heard how they could go out to parishes in towns and villages and knowingly distort the laws of scripture in the interests of world Communism.

The practise has not worked well in heavily populated and well-educated areas. Men such as Cardinal Mindszenty of Budapest and Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague have suffered imprisonment and humiliation for refusing to bow to such Soviet tactics.

But it is in the records of the Vatican that in the often poverty stricken rural areas of Europe, where the priest is at one and the same time spiritual adviser, doctor and midwife, the allegedly church trained servants of the Kremlin have made terrific inroads.

Moscow Using Church

In charging that Moscow now is using the Russian Orthodox church to further its own ends, the Vatican inferentially has recalled the switch in ecclesiastical relationships which took place between the time Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin rose to power and his involvement in war with Nazi Germany.

During the first years of his regime, Stalin was atheism personified.

The League of Godless Youth was a "must" for all young Russians. Churches, convents and monasteries were closed down. The ruffing patriarch of the Orthodox faith was stripped of his powers. Cathedrals were converted into museums for education and disillusionment of the proletariat.

But the Second World War, which found Soviet Russia allied with the western democracies and the forces of christianity, brought a sudden change.

The clamped-down churches were reopened; the Orthodox clergy was restored to its former status and the propagandists of Moscow spoke at great length and even greater detail of religious freedom in the Soviet Union.

Throughout history, the Roman Catholic church of Rome has maintained that the Orthodox church of East-West schism of the fourth century A. D.—has been a servant of the ruling government. The almost-forgotten czars of Russia were spiritual as well as temporal leaders.

The Holy See of Pope Pius XII now has put forth evidence that Stalin has reverted in the religious as well as material sense to the policies of his imperial predecessors. The subject may be one for argument. But the historical background in itself is open to anyone who can read.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

Up near Provincetown, on Cape Cod, a harmless old gent recently released from a mental institution, wandered into a soft drink emporium, ordered a sarsaparilla, and added, "I want every straw you have in the place with my bottle."

Since he accompanied his odd request with a tip of five dollars, the clerk hastened to plunk down with the drink two boxes of straws and the container full on the counter. The old fellow peered suspiciously about the premises and demanded, "How about the ones on those little tables in the back? And how about that one on the floor over there?" "Just an oversight," the clerk assured him, after hastily adding them to his collection.

The old man persisted, "You're sure now this is all you've got?" "Absolutely," said the clerk. Whereupon the old man clattered triumphantly, "This is positively the last straw," and strode out into the sunshine.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Heavy Burden On Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The difficult schedule of General Eisenhower's split-second appearances in Washington was worked over with loving care for days before he returned. It was the special concern of a high-level committee headed by Averell Harriman, adviser to President Truman on foreign policy.

The committee was set up to try to make sure there would be no hitch in the program that puts a heavy burden on Eisenhower as star performer. So far as the public relations aspect is concerned, the soldier-diplomat has demonstrated repeatedly that he knows how to take care of himself.

The news photograph made of Ike with his two grandchildren when he reached West Grandchild was another proof of that. Anyone who could move through the grueling three weeks moving from capital to capital and prime minister, to prime minister and yet look as confident and as assured as the general did in that photograph has something the public instantly recognizes.

Moves To New Command

From the moment the President told Eisenhower that he wanted him to go to Europe, there was little doubt about the course of events. Ike was a soldier under orders moving on to a new command.

He has promised to give 10 days to two weeks to Columbia university to wind up his work there. That will come after the Washington go-round. Then, the blessing of the trustees of Columbia, Eisenhower will take an indefinite leave of absence.

Returning to Washington for a few days of additional briefing, of the North Atlantic defenses plans to sail for Europe and his permanent headquarters. He will be accompanied by his wife and the likelihood is that he will be gone a minimum of a year. If there is peace in the world, or comparative peace, in the spring of 1952 Eisenhower expects to turn the command over to someone else and return to America.

At that point he takes possession once again of his own future, which could include a presidential nomination. But a great deal of hard and hazardous work will come first and the man who knows it best is Ike.

Difficult Tangles

While he cannot dwell publicly on the details, many a difficult diplomatic tangle must be unraveled in the near future if the unified defense command is to become a reality. One of the troubling questions marks is Spain. On Eisenhower's visit to Portugal, Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha said:

"Portugal is a lonely island in the sea, particularly since you persist in making Spain a part of the sea. We cannot understand what our role in the defense of western Europe is to be so long as your attitude toward Spain remains what it is."

Eisenhower sent this word back to the State and Defense Departments. A canvass of western European capitals was thereupon ordered to see if Spain could be brought into the picture in any way.

THE GRUMBLERS

When friends, at evening, settle down

To talk of politics and taxes, On every face there is a frown. No nervous system tense relaxes. Yet, all have homes with love aglow.

And all have had good food for dinner. And sleep will follow cards and show—

No choice twixt loser and the winner.

We'll grumble at the government. Its cost forever growing greater. And precious minutes will be spent Denouncing many a legislator.

Yet, all in raiment warm are dressed.

And all have cars, with gas a tank full.

And all by God above are blest With much for which we should be thankful.

The world is in a sorry state And glumly we shall talk about it.

There now is need for leaders great.

And they may rise, but we shall doubt it.

Yet, all of us have health to boast And funds to pay the bills presented.

'Tis strange that much that matters most Should leave us all so discontented.

Assails The "Fear" Boys

By PAUL GALICCO

Editors and Publishers, The U. S. A.

Gentlemen, and my very dear sirs:

The "Fear" boys are at it again. Would you forgive me and not take it amiss if I wrote you directly this way and asked you to curb them a little, particularly at this time, in the name of so many of us who, being mortal and human, are naturally fearful of something or other a good deal of the time and who spend many hours and much pain conquering these fears so that we can think, act, walk and behave like men.

The "fear" boys, I must explain, are your headline writers, your copy readers, your sub-editors who determine what should be the banner lines on the stories in your newspapers. And they cannot seem to avoid the use of the word "fear."

'Fear' Is Overworked

All the day long from the news stands in our town the headlines tell me not to be brave and strong, not to have faith or courage, not to stand fast against what may come, but fear, fear, fear. "FEAR REDS MASS" — "FEAR NEW SNEAK ATTACK" — "FEAR RUSSIA STOCKPILES ATOM BOMBS" — "FEAR STEEL SHORTAGE" — "FEAR ARMS LACK" — "FEAR REDS BUILD SUB FLEET" — "FEAR NEW U.N. DEFEAT" — "FEAR MANPOWER SHORTAGE" — "FEAR RED MOVE" — "FEAR DISUNITY EFFECTS" — "FEAR COMMUNIST SABOTAGE" — "FEAR G.I.'S TRAPPED". Don't you ever get tired of encountering that word over and over again in your own newspapers?

We understand the meaning of the word and its headline usage. It is a space saver for the phrase—"It is feared," or "The authorities are experiencing alarm over such-and-such a situation."

But that isn't its effect in your newspapers, or the results of its endless repetition. What it does is to cry out to us, "FEAR!!! Be afraid!"

Move Fearfully Along

Most of us ordinary people move fearfully through a fearful world. We fear to die, we fear to live. We fear for our sons being called to war, we fear to be sent ourselves. We fear war's terror, destruction and hell being visited on us. We fear for our wives and for our relatives. But we fear even common little things such as getting ill, or suffering an infection from a cut. We fear being poisoned by bad food, or being cut down in our prime by flying into a mountain in an airplane, meeting head on with another train, or being run over in the street by some vehicle or other. We fear plagues, storms, depressions, the income tax man, the law, old age, the guy who is tougher and stronger. We fear the loss of our way of life and of all our cherished liberties. Back in the dark ages when he rose out of the slime, man was born fearful, for everything on land, sea, and air tried to do him in.

Have Conquered Fears

Some of us have conquered these fears of the things, real or imagined, that menace us, or at least we have learned not to show it. Through that indefinable something that sets man apart from the other animals, we have come to walk in dignity. By the aid of faith and example we have relegated fear to its proper place in the scheme of mankind. It was meant to make us cautious, but never timorous, cowardly and beset by unconquerable anxiety.

Yet we are all human with human weaknesses. We are open to mass suggestion and the hypnosis of repetition. Tell us to fear repeatedly and we will fear. Use the word as a command to abandon good sense and be afraid and we will be ripe for panic on the day when we should display coolness, steady nerves and the indomitable courage that made of us into a nation. The first words of any great leader no matter where in the world, or what the field, are, "Don't be afraid. Have no fear." Day in, day out, your newspapers tell us just the opposite.

Tell Us The Bad News

Print the truth. Tell us the bad news, the set-backs, the defeats, the failures that will make us grit our teeth and determine to try harder the next time, to work more and give more freely of time and effort, but stop admonishing us to be craven about reverses and to spend our time shaking in our shoes for what cannot be mended, or because of what is to come.

Bar the word "Fear" from your headlines for six months or a year. Give us a rest and a vacation from the word that turns men's blood to water and saps the strength from their arms and thighs. You want a place as leaders of the nation. Then how about leading from strength instead of weakness?

So many people would appreciate it if in this simple manner you would help them to freedom from fear.

Faithfully yours,

PAUL GALICCO

One must be a leader in our cultural growth.

One must belong to a family "whose mores and customs are identified closely with our basic social structure."

One must signify one's "higher accepted social standards and positions."

State Highway Officials Expect To Push Projects

By AL SPIVAK
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3 — State Highway officials planning a $500,000,000 road improvement program over the next four years do not anticipate serious hindrance as a result of the national emergency.

Even if the nation becomes involved in an all-out war, they feel, construction and improvement of major roads will proceed.

"The Federal Government learned a very severe lesson when it forced a halt in highway construction during World War II," said Chief Engineer E. L. Schmidt.

"Good highways are of important military value and we are of the opinion that improvement of primary and urban roads will be carried on despite future war developments."

Future restrictions might curtail improvements of secondary roads, he said, which are not considered of prime military worth although they serve the important function of transporting food and goods to consumers.

"Planning for all phases of road improvements will continue," declared Schmidt. "We have our fingers crossed hoping we can proceed and that's not only the case in Pennsylvania but in other states as well."

No Great Problem

Supplies of materials do not appear to be a great problem at present, he reported.

"Steel now is available on delivery in 15 months," he said, "but that won't hurt us too much especially on urban work, because a great deal of other work must be done before steel is needed."

Schmidt said that in his opinion steel will be plentiful enough to supply highway needs even if a large amount is shunted to defense or war production.

"We expect to have adequate supplies of cement and other materials too," he pointed out, "at least in the foreseeable future."

The World War II lull in road building proved to be of serious consequence, Schmidt said.

"We haven't been able to catch up since and neither have other states."

Keep Careful Check

District engineers have been directed to keep a careful check on the condition of all road building equipment in their areas to insure against a bogging down of the highway program by shortages or breakdown of equipment, Schmidt said.

The commonwealth's contemplated road program will involve an expenditure of $120 million to $125 million a year from now until 1954.

The State Highway planning commission has recommended 12-year program of road and bridge construction costing $1,725,936,000.

The commission found that more than half of the state's major road mileage will require improvement within the next 12 years.

The program was described by the commission as one that "will serve the state both in peace and war."

On this basis, Schmidt said, officials are generally agreed that federal authorities will permit the program to proceed.

"At the moment we're going ahead on the basis, we won't be stopped," he said.

CELEBRATION

LONDON — (INS)—Moscow Radio reported that Asman Kumakov "celebrated the New Year" by swimming six miles across the Moscow river with the temperature four degrees below zero.

Five Children Are Burned To Death

MILTON, N. Y., Feb. 3.—(INS)—Five children, ranging in age from two to ten years, were burned to death Friday when fire destroyed a one-family frame house in Milton.

The oldest, Joseph Simone, 10, was trapped when he ran up to the second floor in an attempt to save the house. Mrs. Simone, who escaped, acted as baby sitter for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Conorman of Milton whose children were the other two victims.

The fire broke out when an oil stove in the dining room exploded. Three of the children belonged to Mrs. Victor Simone, who occupied the house. Mrs. Simone, who escaped, acted as baby sitter for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Conorman of Milton whose children were the other two victims.

The dead, in addition to Joseph Simone, were his brother Thomas, six; his sister Amy, two; Wayne Conorman, three; and Sherry Conorman, two.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 3 — Busby Berkeley claims that there is no such thing as a beautiful but dumb girl and that the average movie showgirl probably boasts a higher I. Q. than the average housewife or secretary.

The dance director of RKO's new musical, "Two Tickets To Broadway," insists that a gal can't be beautiful but dumb because "intelligence is a vital ingredient of true beauty." He declares: "That's particularly true in pictures. The lame brain or the bird wit can't make the grade with the camera."

Interested In Eyes

Berkeley explains it all by saying that the movie camera has an uncanny knack of looking into the eyes and accurately recording the intelligence and character they reflect.

The dance director says that when he auditions girls for his musicals he wants to see them in their street clothes in his office so that he will not be beset by distractions.

"I am more interested in their eyes than I am in their figures," insists Berkeley. "I judge them upon the intelligence and personality they project in ordinary conversation, because I have trained myself to see them with the camera's eye."

No Belittling

Berkeley says that he has focused his eyes also on housewives and secretaries and he does not wish to belittle the intelligence of any group of women.

"As a matter of fact," he declares, "many of the most successful showgirls, and certainly the most beautiful, are housewives themselves. Marriage and motherhood make a woman more beautiful by giving her a warmth and understanding that the camera is quick to discern."

Ancient Automobiles

They have a fair-sized museum of early automobiles at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer now that Red Skelton's "Excuse My Dust" is finished.

Producer Jack Cummings assembled a classy field of eight turn-of-the-century cars for the 20-miler race in the picture.

He gathered a 1902 Schacht; a 1903 Oldsmobile; two Sears Roebucks, including one that was used in the 1906 San Francisco fire; a 1900 French car; an electric car and a steam car.

"Whoa, Emma"

The same producer is reading "Texas Carnival" for shooting next month. Howard Keel sings a ditty called "Whoa, Emma" to a horse in this one.

Cummings wanted a white house with pink or blue eyes for his technicolor picture. They paraded a flock of hopeful nags, all white with either pink or blue eyes, past the producer. None of them would do for Emma's role though. They were all gentleman horses.

Mrs. Baker To Be Speaker At Meeting Here

Youth Choir Will Sing At Service At First Methodist

Mrs. Charles W. Baker, Jr., Duquesne, president of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran Church in America, has been secured as the speaker for the local World Day of Prayer program. The service will be conducted Friday, February 9, at 1 p. m. in First Methodist church, North at North Jefferson, this city.

Mrs. Baker is the first woman to serve as a commissioner to the National Lutheran Council from the U. L. C. A. She is an advisory member from the W. M. S. to the U. L. C. A. Board of American Missions and is the first woman to serve on the board of trustees of Gettysburg college. These are just a few of the key positions held by the Lutheran church leader whose husband is pastor of First English Evangelical Lutheran church, Duquesne. She attended the Lutheran World Federation meeting last August in Germany.

When Mrs. Baker prepared to leave home for the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. meeting in Cleveland, she found the Pennsylvania railroad had cancelled all trains through Duquesne on account of "the big snow." The station master finally told her that an emergency special would go through her town and would stop for her. The next question was how to reach the station. This question was solved by riding on a patrol wagon, provided by the police department.

Newton Given Examination For Service

Hitchhiked 12,000 Miles For Chance To Kill Communists

By LEE FERRERO
(U. S. War Correspondent)

EIGHTH U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Feb. 3.—William Jesse Newton who "hitchhiked" 12,000 miles to fight the Communists was given a physical examination today at Eighth U. S. Army Headquarters in Korea.

Results of the test were not immediately announced.

The 26-year-old American soldier of fortune appeared dramatically at a frontline command post Thursday and asked for a rifle to kill "a few Communists" and clear his name of Red accusations.

I accompanied Newton through the physical examination room where a score of GI's were being treated for combat wounds.

Determined To Fight

Newton told International News Service:

"This makes me more determined than ever to get in there and do my part against Communism. They are giving me a fair chance to take this exam and join Michael's frontline outfit. That's all I ask."

He referred to famed Col. John Michael, commander of the 27th Division, whose outpost he came to Thursday.

Newton who lists his hometown as Temple City, Cal., for the first time told his version of a much publicized incident last August when he landed a rented seaplane alongside the Polish liner Batory and was taken aboard that ship.

The Batory had been under surveillance by the FBI because it was aboard this ship that Communist Gerhardt Eisler escaped to Europe after jumping bail.

Newton explained that he had set down near the ship merely because it was running out of fuel.

Plane Was Rented

I had rented the plane to make a reorientation flight," he said, "as it had been some time since I had flown such a craft the sole and only reason I landed by the Batory was that I wanted to be near a ship to keep from drowning."

"When they took me to England in the same ship that once had Gerhardt Eisler as a passenger the government looked into my background and added two and two and got five. I can speak and write Russian."

"I once worked for the United States atomic energy commission and I had been to Eniwetok (Island) proving ground in the Pacific."

"You can see what the FBI did with that. I tell you on my word there was nothing more to it than that and the U. S. government has concluded."

Order For Examination

The order for Newton's physical examination was given by Eighth Army Commander Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway who said it would determine "his acceptability for enlistment in the U. S. Army."

Newton consented to a two-day psychiatric observation as part of the physical examination.

"I've been examined by psychiatrists before," he grinned, "and I usually found myself saner than the men examining me."

Newton has discharge papers showing he served in both the Navy and Air Force.

He said besides wanting to clear his name of the "red taint" he came to Korea for other reasons.

He explained:

"I came here mainly to avoid fighting a war against Communism in the streets of Cincinnati or any other American city. If we don't stop Communism now we will have to fight on our home grounds and by then it may be too late."

There are a number of other qualifications, too numerous to mention—and there is also a wonderful privilege attached to the invitation.

We socially elect who have been "honored" with this invitation—and there are only 30,000 of us, according to the brochure—can save $5.00 from the published price of $24.00 (shipping charges included), or $1.50 more if we send our check NOW!

"My dear Mr. and Mrs. Brandeis" are also requested to furnish three pages of "Social Data" including Genealogy, Family Name Connections, Heraldry and Collections.

On the invitation it says "R. S. V. P."

For thus purpose a blue reply envelope, without stamp, is enclosed.

Since I haven't a stamp handy I shall reply here and now: "My dear Mr. Larkin III:

Thanks for the honour. But all our genealogical and heraldic records have long ago been chewed up by our late dog Deuce. So we must respectfully decline."

But can you see why I am too flustered to write a column to day?

More U.S. Troops Need In Europe Says Eisenhower

General Also Gives Support To Draft Of 18-Year-Olds

By WILLIAM THEIS
(L. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Gen. Eisenhower reportedly told congress Friday that three and one-half more American divisions should be based in western Europe this year to bring U. S. strength there to six divisions.

The supreme commander of the European defense forces also publicly endorsed the administration's proposal to draft 18-year-olds.

Rep. Van Zandt (R) Pa., said the general advised a joint meeting of the House Armed Services and Foreign Affairs Committees that he was expressing his own personal opinion on the number of U. S. troops that should be sent to Europe.

The congressman said the general said the six-division estimate did not represent an administrative decision and that none had been reached yet on the number of troops to be sent abroad.

Some of His Beliefs

Other members present at the closed door meeting said questioning also brought out that the general believes:

1. Western Europe's defenses are so weak now that in the event of a Russian attack they would be overwhelmed in a few weeks.
2. In the long run, however, the western nations would be victorious in a war with Communist Europe.
3. At least 18 months are needed to prepare western Europe's defenses to a point where it will be able to resist with some hope of success a Russian onslaught.

Eisenhower later appeared at a

Senate preparedness subcommittee hearing to endorse the proposal to lower the draft age to 18.

He said that speaking "as a soldier, I think it makes little difference" whether a boy is called at 18 or when he finishes high school but "in no event" should he be drafted "later than 18."

Believes in U. M. T.

The general speaking on the combination Draft-Universal Military Training bill now before the subcommittee, said "I firmly believe in Universal Military Training at this critical state of affairs."

Eisenhower also firmly supported the provision to lengthen the term of an inductee's service from 21 to 27 months.

Then, testifying at an open session of the Senate Armed Services committee, Eisenhower declined to pass judgment on the question of whether Congress should declare a policy on ground forces before there is any commitment of units to Europe by the president.

Eisenhower said:

"It has been my conviction that the European nations must provide the bulk of the ground forces. I am not prepared to state the exact proportion. There is now question that ours ought to be the small fraction—not the great fraction."

Portersville Fire Volunteers Report

Portersville Volunteer Fire Department held their regular meeting on Thursday evening at Naser's with a large attendance present.

William Brown, president, was in charge. Fire Chief Fred Hall and Lt. Glen Neiper reported that over $150 was realized from the crap and newspaper salvage drive. Special thanks were given to all who contributed and those who loaned their services in picking up the material.

Plans have been made for another drive in April. By-laws committee elected were: Meyers R. Barkley and R. Cleland. The next meeting is planned in March.

There are more than 250,000 professional women hairdressers in England.

Gen. Eisenhower Aids Proposal To Draft 18-Year Olds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Top lawmakers believe today that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has all but "sold" Congress on the need to draft 18-year-olds and get going with universal military training.

But Ike, who declared that the United States should step up its rearmament drive to wartime speed because Russia is capable of an immediate attack, was criticized by one prominent Democrat in the Senate.

Sen. Chapman (D) Ky., expressed the opinion of a considerable number of congressmen by declaring that the Supreme Allied commander in Europe "very substantially helped" the 18-year-old draft bill both in Congress and before the public by "his impressive statement and thorough endorsement."

Another Democrat, Sen. Douglas of Illinois, said, however, that he was "shaken" because Eisenhower did not give any credit to the idea of pegging American troop commitments in Europe on the number of divisions put up by the Allies.

The general proposed that the U. S. should have six divisions in Europe by the end of this year and have a total of twelve on the western line before 1953.

Complete Testimony In Probe Of Plane Crash Killing Seven

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Civil Aeronautics Board examiners today pondered testimony gathered at a three-day hearing into a DC-4 crash at International Airport in which seven persons died Jan. 14.

Safety devices that would automatically help airline pilots to land instead of leaving many details to their discretion were recommended to the investigators yesterday.

The witness who suggested landing aids was J. D. Crane, vice president of engineering of National Airlines, Inc., operator of the plane that crashed and burned after overshooting a runway.

Crane specifically urged adoption of some device to show a pilot whether his ship's wheels had touched ground close enough to the landing end of a runway.

Farm Roundup

Guides To Be Given For Crops

Secretary Brannan To Outline Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan plans to announce 1951 farm production guides for major crops.

The guides are designed to take the place of cancelled acreage allotments on this year's crops. They will emphasize greater production of crops essential to the mobilization effort.

The announcement is expected today but may be held up till Monday for technical reasons.

Production guides—they may be given another name—will call for increases in some crops and decreases in others with the idea of encouraging balanced agricultural production to meet emergency demands this year and in years to come.

The guides, to be issued for from six to ten major crops, will be based on state and county production.

Top federal farm thinking now is along the lines of encouraging maximum "practicable" production. It used to be maximum "possible" production. That appears like a fine point, but officials say that maximum "possible" production would mean unbalanced farm output—something they want very much to avoid.

It was understood that there will be no penalties on farmers who do not comply with the guides.

The guides will aid farmers to determine a balance between, say, corn and soybeans, or cotton and soybeans or grain sorghums, or cotton and wheat, or spring wheat and flax, or oats and barley and so on.

The Commodity Credit Corporation—the government's price supporting agency—announces losses totaling almost 137 million dollars in carrying out price support operation in the past six months.

That is more than half of what the government lost in such operations during the entire fiscal year which ended last June. During the 1950 business year, the CCC says it took a loss of 49 million dollars.

As of December 31, the CCC says it had two billion 890 million dollars tied up in price support loans and inventories. Loans outstanding totaled 964 million dollars while the value of farm commodities held in government storage totaled one billion, 926 million dollars.

The agriculture department reports that during the last week it confirmed sales of slightly more than 10 million bushels of wheat and flour in wheat equivalent under the international wheat agreement.

Principal buyers were Austria, the United Kingdom, Netherlands, Italy and India.

Total sales to date under 1950-51 agreement amount to 160 million bushels.

TO BUILD UNDERPASS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The State Highways Department has been authorized by the Public Utility Commission to construct an underpass and two bridges to carry the Penn-Lincoln parkway between Pittsburgh and the Ohio State line.

The projects, costing 2,500,000, must be completed by May 1, 1953.

The underpass will cross beneath viaduct in Scott township adjacent to Carnegie. A stream known as Whiskey run will be relocated along with about 1,500 feet of Bell road.

NO RE-ELECTION

Executive state officers of Alabama are not eligible for re-election.

Only 'Few' Join Wildcat Strike In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Only a "few" switchmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Pittsburgh have joined the "sick call" strike in other sections of the nation.

Officials of both the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio, the two other major lines serving this industrial area, said all their regular personnel are at work.

A Pennsylvania spokesman said that 10 of 13 crews in the downtown yards failed to report yesterday, but that all necessary switching was being handled.

Operators were reported back to normal at the Pennsylvania's Pitsburgh, Pa., yards, where a walk-out started Thursday night.

E. B. Welcome, deputy president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Pittsburgh, called on all trainmen to stay on the job or return to work "and not to do anything in violation of army regulations."

ROOSTERS

Roosters are great fellows to brag. They crow about things. They have plenty to brag about but they don't know much about it. They are pretty good stuff when a good cook makes them into fried chicken.

Eating a good chicken dinner is a good way to get protein. Every body needs protein. It is our best building material but is valuable in other ways too.

It helps to keep old people healthy. Sometimes Uncle Joe says that he has stopped growing and doesn't need much protein. He'd better take another think. His machinery is wearing out pretty fast. He needs protein for repairs and replacements and it seems to keep up his resistance to disease. If a rooster is too tough for his gums he can eat cheese and eggs.

New Castle High Passers Suffer Defeat At Ambridge 65-37

Canes Rocked By Bridgers, Drop To League Tie With Valley Team

New Castle basketball, for season league play, hit a new low last night, when the Canes were rocked at Ambridge, 65-37.

Ambridge dragged New to a tie position in the league won and lost column, and climbed a notch above Ellwood in administering the Canes the worst defeat of the season.

Cane floormen became progressively worse last night, falling off in each respective quarter until the fourth when they could score up only four points.

Latsko and Boak tallied a field-goal and a foul and New led 3-0. Jim Hill draped in a two pointer and the Canes were in front 5-2. Three times in the period the Canes were knotted at five, nine, and 11. The Bridgers jumped ahead once, before the period's close 12-11, but Latsko quickly returned the New Castle advantage with his second field goal of the quarter, for a 13-12.

Ambridge Gains

Glenn Whitehair exhibited splendid ball control in assisting the Bridger team to quick field goals in the middle of the second period in helping the Palmer floormen to gain a step on the faltering Canes. High scoring George Moranz hit the count at 17, and again at 23, after Buckner and Boak had tallied for New Castle. Lanky Bob Harmotta rushed in three field goals before the period's close and New Castle had fallen off to 25-31 at intermission.

Red Cheeverin of the Bridgers picked up the scoring responsibility in the third period and again the valley team rammed through 19 points for a period total. Moranz, Harmotta Cheeverin and Kazi pushed the Ambridge advantage out of reach and New Castle fell hopelessly behind. Only Johnny McKay maintained any steadiness for New in pocketing two field goals. The period ended 33-50 in favor of Ambridge.

The Canes plummeted to a low of a four-point output in the final stanza, as Bridger forward George Moranz hit for eight points. Milanovich inserted his reserves in the later stages of the period.

New Castle's field goal percentage fell with their league standing when the Canes could tally only 14 times in 65 tries for a 21 per cent. Johnny McKay, clicked on six of 18 tries, and again claimed scoring honors for Milanovich men.

New Castle jayvees continued to win over league opponents, besting Ambridge's reserves 41-36. The locals have won 13 and lost but three.

Shenango at East Brook	Union at Wampum
------------------------	-----------------

Wampum and Bessemer pulled farther away from the rest of the pack in Section 23 Friday night as they both added league wins and their nearest rivals lost.

Wampum had an easy time downing Shenango, 77-37, but Bessemer was hard pressed to get by New Wilmington, 43-40. In the other section game, Union's up and coming Scotties dumped East Brook, 61-37.

New Wilmington gave the Bessemer Cementers a run for their money in the New Wilmington community hall, before fading in the third quarter. The Greyhounds led, 25-18, at the end of the first half.

Lou Ringer played an outstanding game for New Wilmington and though he scored only two points was one of the big men in the Greyhound offense. Walt McGinnis also played well for the Greyhounds.

The entire Bessemer team—paced by Jim Gagliano and Phil DeArment—played good ball.

Scotties Hot

Union picked up where it left off against New Wilmington Tuesday night and tore into East Brook with a vengeance. The Scotties piled up a 22-11 lead in the first frame, stretched it to 39-21 at the end of the half and 55-27 at the end of the third quarter.

The entire Union team played well, and according to East Brook Coach Glen Matthews there was no stopping them.

Shenango presented no problem to Wampum, and the Indians rolled to their seventh straight league win. The early part of the game was marred by too frequent fouls. Wampum pulled away in the second quarter.

The Wildcats lost the services of center Johnny Allen on personal early in the second half.

In preliminary games, Wampum, Union and New Wilmington won. Melvi of Wampum with 24 points led all other JV point setters. Teammate Krueger had 23. Fenick of East Brook and Scott of Reemore scored 14.

Saddler-Famechon Fight Plans Made

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Plans are afoot for a featherweight title bout late in February or early March between Champion Sandy Saddler and Ray Famechon of France.

Matchmaker Al Weil of the International Boxing club made known the possibility of a Saddler-Famechon fight yesterday. The bout would be a replacement for the scheduled Saddler-Willie Pep match, which has been postponed indefinitely because of an injury over Pep's left eye.

Big League Club Owners Gather In New York, Chandler Fighting

By CHARLES EINHSTEIN (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Big league clubowners, suffering from an acute attack of commissioner apoplexy, met in New York today amid the possibility of a soon-forthcoming showdown in baseball's "Chandler dilemma."

Although the leagues were to meet officially for "routine" purposes, interest in the owners' actions was heightened by the presence in New York of A. B. Chandler, baseball commissioner who two months ago was repudiated by the club owners.

Still in Running

Although the league magnates voted not to retain Chandler in office, his contract has more than a year yet to go, and he is certainly in the running to succeed himself. He said not long ago he has lined up 11 of the 12 votes necessary for election (or re-election) to the $65,000-a-year post.

And yesterday, in response to a query, the smiling Kentuckian announced:

"Things are looking up."

Trautman Mentioned

One report says that by tomorrow a four-man committee among the clubowners will give its recommendations on possible successors to Chandler. Most frequently mentioned among the "possibles" has been George Trautman, now czar of the minor leagues.

Chandler will be the principal speaker at the New York baseball writers' dinner tomorrow night, and by that time the course of future events may have been mapped, at least privately.

The baseball clan arrived in New York yesterday for the National league's 75th anniversary celebration, a meeting highlighted by a letter from President Truman in which the chief executive said

"may the sun never set on American baseball."

Truman Favors Baseball

Mr. Truman's letter, addressed to National League President Ford Frick, was warm in its praise of and hopes for the game. It also included a paragraph which said: "Baseball has made great contributions in peace, and in war it has asked no special favors, nor will it in our present preparedness program."

Chandler's repudiation by the clubowners occurred less than a week after he told newsmen the game would shut down if the national emergency made such action necessary.

The vote not to return him to office actually was 9 to 7 in Chandler's favor. He thus fell three short of the required 12 votes. Subsequently, the owners voted unanimously to consider other candidates for the job of commissioner.

March Of Dimes Benefit Games Please Small Crowd

East Brook Boosters downed K. Pulaski 60-58 in an overtime period and United Engineering upset the WKST Pottery 56-43 in the March of Dimes triple header at George Washington junior high school Friday night.

In the other game on the card the New Castle News Clowns drubbed the WKST Misfits 15-14. Jack French, Jr., was the leading scorer for the winners with about six points.

The Boosters came from behind in the evening's opening attraction to tie the count at 55-55 as the regulation game ended and then outscored the KP's 5-3 in the overtime to win.

Minus the services of Ralph Manzo and Jack Morrow, the Boosters trailed 31-21 at the end of the first half and 48-39 at the third quarter drew a close.

United Tops Universal

In the evening's final attraction United Engineering got revenge for its only two losing games by downing Universal Pottery 56-43. Tony Cialella starred defensively for the winners.

Universal was without the services of Fred Wimer and Lyle Fox and could not keep up with the Engineers' fast breaking offense.

A crowd of about 200 braved the weather to attend the benefit tilts, to swell the local March of Dimes campaign by approximately $200.

George C. Powers, Jr., chairman of the local campaign, wishes of thank managements and members of the competing teams, WKST and the News, officials and other persons that contributed toward the program.

Services of all persons connected with the games were donated. Officials for the two regulation games were Tony Pegnato, Nick Genkoff, George Komara and Ray Kelly. "Tempy" Temperato officiated the clown game.

Murry Dickson Not Satisfied

Cliff Chambers Not Satisfied

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Veteran pitcher Murry Dickson became a holdout today and told a Pittsburgh newspaper he will return his 1951 Pirate contract unsigned.

Cliff Chambers, a left-handed pitcher, rejected his new pact yesterday and infielder Pete Castiglione said he would have to confer with General Manager Branch Rickey before he did anything about his.

Dickson, who is 33, won ten and lost 15 last season and compiled a 3.80 earned run average. In response to a telephone query to his Leavenworth, Kan., home, he told the Sun-Telegraph he does not intend to accept Rickey's terms.

Feed Rabbits At Nine A.M. Sunday

Tommy O'Brien and Francis Pinkston reported today they would take corn to the dog training area of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association, along the Noshaur road, at nine a. m. Sunday. They would like some members of the association to assist them in distributing the corn for rabbits which were stocked there recently.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

NAT HOLMAN alias Mr. Basketball says that "if I had my way, just for an experiment, I would suggest we eliminate the backboards in basketball and let the boys shoot for the baskets with a net all around." It is Nat's way of curing one of the ills of the cage sport—that of the Big Guy. "The greatest thrill I ever got in basketball," the famed coach of the City College of New York team said, "was playing in the net in the old days. The net was placed around the court and there was no out-of-bounds. We had backboards but they were not played the way they are today." The C.C.N.Y. mentor, whose team scored the "Grand Slam" in basketball last winter when it won both the Invitational and the N.C.C.A. tournaments, says he has one pet peeve in the game as played today. "The Big Guy is getting too much of a play. His operation under the basket has given him an unearned advantage. It's developed into a one-man ball game. So, anything we can do to remedy this will help." Nat concluded.

WEATHER PERMITTING, the game feeding project which was scheduled for last Saturday will extend over a five-county area at 10 a.m. Sunday from the Seneca airport. More than 400 bushels of corn will be distributed to deer and wild turkeys. The Aero Game Feeding club has charge of the project. . . . Peter Reibich, 16, of Aliquippa, R. D. 3, was fatally shot several days ago. He had been with a brother and another companion fox hunting. He was climbing into a auto when the gun was discharged. . . . Bill Klem, famed baseball umpire, is off the critical list but is yet in serious condition at Miami. . . . Bill Murray, Delaware coach, has been picked to coach Duke gridders this year. . . . Germany won the four-man bobsled championship at Alpe D'Huez, France. The U.S., which won the title last year, was second and Switzerland, third. . . . Ralph Kiner and Pete Reiser have signed their Pirates contracts. General Manager Branch Rickey sent out contracts to other players, January 30.

TOMMY JONES, police lieutenant, a former lightweight boxer, is opposed to boxers wearing headgear in boxing bouts. He maintains that the jar from a punch delivered with a 14-ounce glove can cause as much injury as one delivered with a five-ounce glove, which recalls that no one ever heard of a fatality in the days of bare-fist fighting.

The National League celebrated its 75th anniversary yesterday in New York. The majors meet there today, separately. "Happy" Chandler, who was "fired" as commissioner of baseball, recently sold the TV rights of series and all-star games for six million dollars and is in a pleasant frame of mind. It is reported he is within a single vote of the necessary 12 out of 16 to upset some club owner's desire to chase him out of czarism. . . . George Gairford, manager of Ray Robinson, is talking big. He says that, if Sugar beats Jake LaMotta for the 160-pound title, Sugar will fight Joey Maxim, for the 175 pound title, then take on Ezzard Charles. Here & There believes Joey will take Robinson's

Five Indicted In Floor Bribe

Grand Jury Hears
"Fixing" Testimony

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—All five men arrested in the Manhattan college basketball fixing scandal are under indictment by the grand jury today for bribery and conspiracy.

The indictments were handed down yesterday after the grand jury had questioned one of the alleged conspirators, former Manhattan star Hank Poppe. Poppe waived immunity and indicated he will testify for the state.

Meanwhile, Assistant District Attorney Edward Breslin said "more indictments may be forthcoming," and the Bronx January grand jury was ordered held over indefinitely.

Indicted along with Poppe were his ex-teammate Jack Byrnes and three alleged gamblers, Benjamin and Irving Schwartzberg and Cornelius Kelleher.

Three Tied For Lead At Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 3.—(INS)—Three men were tied for first place today going into the third round of the $10,000 Tucson Golf Invitational and only one stroke behind was dapper Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

Mangrum, apparently rid of painful back miseries which have bothered him since the final round of the Long Beach Open, fired a five under par 65 yesterday for a 36 hole tally of 133.

Bunched in a tie for first place at 132 are Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y.; Johnny Bulla, Vernon, Pa., and Ted Kroil, New Hartford, N. Y.

New York Stocks

Stock Market
Trend Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The stock market advanced further today, pushing still higher the 20-year peak in the industrial averages it has been setting almost daily this week.

Buying interest was selective, however. Some of the blue chips were in demand, others were entirely neglected. There was considerable more interest in some of the cheaper stocks than there had been earlier this week when strong buying of investment caliber securities was noted.

A revival of interest in low issues was taken in the street to indicate a return of the public to more active participation, attracted by the steady advance.

The increase in margin a few weeks ago had temporarily curtailed trading from public sources, for although margin credit plays only a small part in the market over-all picture, a goodly percentage of the 150,000 to 160,000 margin accounts in existence were left without buying power when the allowable credit was cut from 50 to 25 per cent.

Some of these accounts were among the most active traders.

Senate Elections
Committee Will Have Hearings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The Senate elections subcommittee today ordered hearings on Pennsylvania and Maryland complaints and decided to give former New York Gov. Joe Hanley "an opportunity" to explain about his mysterious promissory note.

Chairman Gillette (D) Iowa, announced that Sens. Hennings (D) Mo., and Hendrickson (R) N. J., will hold hearings at Wilkes-Barre on alleged bank withdrawal and use of election machinery funds by GOP leaders.

A four member subcommittee, headed by Sen. Monroney (D) Okla., will hold the hearings on the Maryland election of Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. This case involves allegations of defamatory literature. Gillette said that "some evidence also has been developed" about excessive campaign contributions.

In the "Hanley letter" matter in which investigators found a paid off promissory note for $150,000 about which the supposed holder disclaimed knowledge, Gillette said:

"It seemed just and proper that Mr. Hanley be given a chance to have agents call on him and allow him to make a statement."

Reorganization Of
Department Of Agriculture Urged

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—(INS)—A sweeping reorganization of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in line with Hoover Commission recommendations was predicted at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Soil Conservation district directors at Harrisburg.

National Association Vice-President George R. Heidrich of Harrisburg, Pa., said yesterday that Secretary Charles F. Brannan will announce the reorganization plan in detail "any day now."

Heidrich said the reorganization will be designed by a 10-member special committee to reduce costs and avoid duplication of effort in various divisions of the department.

Present production and marketing administration committees will be known as U.S.D.A. committees under the new plan, he said, and will handle all agricultural conservation activities in each state and county under direction of Federal Soil Conservation Service.

Organization of County Soil Conservation Districts in Pennsylvania and other states will be strengthened, he added.

Auxiliary Honors
Mrs. Helen Gordon

The annual event of honoring their presidents each year on their birthday was continued by members of the Corporal Harry L. McBride auxiliary, Post 522, VFW, Thursday evening when they held a delightful dinner party for Mrs. Helen Gordon at the post home.

Mrs. Catherine Carney was general chairman of the event and Mrs. Mayme Black had charge of the dining room. A delicious full course chicken dinner was served at beautifully appointed H-shaped tables, the blue and gold lodge colors predominating. A large cake, centered the table, inscribed in the frosting of which was "Happy Birthday, Helen."

Candles and gold and blue crocheted cup favors were additional features. Mrs. Mary L. Clark, Mrs. Mary Koss and Mrs. Mary E. Clark comprised the committee in charge of the kitchen.

Mrs. Gordon received a lovely tablecloth from the auxiliary and other gifts from the members. Commander Wendell Morrison was a special guest and brought greetings to the ladies. Members who spoke briefly were Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mrs. Evelyn Woods and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, a charter member.

Mrs. Della Missey and Mrs. Rebecca McKissick brought greetings from the Gold Star Mothers. A short business meeting was held, at which time Mrs. Evelyn Woods, the auxiliary delegate to the Women's Patriotic Defense Conference held in Washington, D. C., gave her report.

Games were enjoyed with prizes falling to Mrs. Mary L. Clark, Mrs. Mary E. Clark, Mrs. Ann Mulcahy and Mrs. Helen Gordon.

Mrs. Tempa Stickle won the award for the Scotland school project, which was in charge of Mrs. Della Missey.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock at the post home, West Grand street.

FUEL FOR CEMENT

AKRON — In 1949 bituminous coal represented about 64 per cent of all the fuel consumed for the manufacture of cement.

Ban Aluminum
For Many Uses On
Non-Essential Goods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The government today banned the use of aluminum in 200 non-essential products ranging from ashtrays and cocktail shakers and accessories to automobile hardware trim.

At the same time, the National Production Authority served notice that it plans to ban the use of natural rubber in the manufacture of shoe soles, heel or sole slabs and other products about March 1.

NPA's aluminum order specified that the scarce metal may not be used in the manufacture of the 200 items after April 1.

Heavy Flood Loss
In Kentucky Areas

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Feb. 3.—(INS)—Five thousand persons are homeless today in southeastern Kentucky where the flooding Upper Cumberland river has caused damage estimated at a million dollars.

The floodwaters, already beginning to recede, destroyed communications lines and caused untold damage in Barbourville, Lenoire and Middleboro.

Zero weather hampered emergency relief measures. All public buildings in Barbourville were opened for flood refugees and the state sent bed bedding and food to the area.

More than 800 refugees were cared for in flood-surrounded Barbourville.

Communications have been partially restored along the 100-mile strip of flooded land.

Seek To Encourage
Wild Rubber Imports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(INS)—The National Production Authority acted today to encourage development of wild rubber imports from Latin America.

NPA authorized private industry to import wild rubber from Latin American countries without government restrictions, except for routine inspection by the general services administration.

GSA has taken over all imports of natural rubber to assure equitable distribution. The NPA said the United States obtained about 4,000 long tons a year of wild rubber during the last war but now averages about 2,000 tons annually from Latin America.

Women's Committee
Report Meeting Held

Women's Committee for the Christ for Greater New Castle Campaign met on Wednesday in the City Mission, with Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, chairman in charge.

Twenty members were present. Favorable reports on visitation work were received.

The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. V. O. Potter of the Epworth church, who used I John 4:7 as her Scripture, speaking on "Love." Plans have been made to visit various business establishments inviting women to the evangelistic meetings. Another meeting is scheduled next Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Mission.

Two Smoke Scares
Call Out Firemen

City firemen were called out last evening and this morning when people thought they saw smoke, which turned out to be vapor from hot water. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported today.

At 8:20 o'clock this morning, neighbors thought Alderman Kennedy's office was on fire. They saw vapor coming off a tarpaulin, which had been placed over a hole in the roof in the rear of the building, caused by heat from the inside melting snow on the tarpaulin.

At 5:25 p.m., Friday, they were called to the home of Robert McAllister, of 427 Neshaunock avenue, where a hot water tank had sprung a leak and sprayed water on a hot pipe coming from the furnace, causing vapor to arise. Firemen shut off the water into the tank.

Capt. Blair Makes
Return Sea Trip
On Airways Plane

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Capt. Charles F. Blair, Jr., 41, who broke the New York-London non-stop speed flying record last Wednesday, arrived back in New York today by common carrier.

The veteran commercial pilot flew from London to Idlewild Airport on a Pan American-World Airways plane after his record-breaking flight in a converted F-51 fighter.

He was met by his wife, Janice, and his daughter, Suzanne, 16. The Blairs also have a 10-month-old son, Christopher.

Blair made light of the impounding of his plane by British customs authorities. The Mustang was held only on a technicality, he said, and he probably will get it cleared when he returns to London next week.

Blair made the 3,500-mile New York-London flight in seven hours 48 minutes compared with the previous record of eight hours 55 minutes. At one time he clocked 600 miles an hour.

An oyster dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Phyllis.

Games of contest was the diversion of the afternoon, with the main prize being captured by Mrs. Helen Gordon, and the gallop going to Mrs. Ada Keeling.

Weather permitting, the club will journey on Thursday next to the home of Mrs. Blanche Hadley, of Grove City, otherwise the club will meet with Mrs. Ada Keeling, of North Mercer street.

Restrictions Now On Sending Parcel Post

It is reported by Eddie McBride, superintendent at Mahoningtown post office, that on account of the switchmen's strike on the railroads, trains No. 87 and 88 on the P. & L. E. Railroad between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, have been temporarily discontinued, and train 9 on the Pennsylvania Railroad from New York City has also been taken off.

Orders have been received that no parcels can be sent to New York City; Brooklyn; Long Island; all of Manhattan; Trenton, N. J.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Baltimore, Md.; Cleveland, Ohio; Jacksonville, Fla.; Chicago, Ill.; St. Louis, Mo.; Washington, D. C.; and Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. McBride states that the strike and order from the Post Office Department has already had a very noticeable effect on the amount of parcels being received and dispatched to the above mentioned places.

Two Million Not In School

Such Is Report For 1949-50 Year In United States

By EDWIN HOFFMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing reported today that nearly two million school-age American children were not attending school in 1949-50, "in many cases because there was no school for them."

Ewing made the remark in his agency's annual report to congress for the year ending June 30, 1949, in which he added that about 275,000 children came to the attention of courts because of delinquency.

Stressing the need for further federal aids to education, Ewing said:

"Some 1.9 million children age 6-11, were not in school, in many cases because there was no school for them, and too many others were being deprived of full educational opportunity because of the lack of teachers, buildings and equipment."

Year of Progress

However, Ewing described the past fiscal year as a "year of hard-earned progress in most of the things that make life worth living." He said the "significant developments of the past year have put us in a better position to meet the profoundly disturbing forces at large in the world."

Ewing said the general death rate was 100—an estimated 9.7 for each 1,000 persons in 1949-50 as compared with 9.9 in the previous year; medical research had bettered even its own past performance, and new construction had made a real dent in the chronic shortage of hospitals.

Other Highlights

The report's other highlights: 1. The annual rate of earnings by 60,000 disabled workers who were returned to work during the year increased from 17 million dollars before rehabilitation to 93 million in the first year afterward.

2. With federal help averaging around four million dollars a year for the past five years, states and communities practically eradicated malaria, which had cost something like a billion dollars annually in lost production in 17 southern states alone.

3. About 200,000 crippled and handicapped children received care under the federal-state program, but there were 30,000 needing care on state waiting lists.

4. Though one out of every 20 school children may be expected to spend some time in a mental institution in his lifetime, schools with access to mental health clinics were conspicuous exceptions to the general run.

5. The discovery of cortisone and acth, so-called "wonder" drugs was "epoch-making" in the battle against rheumatic heart trouble and arthritis.

MINES GET BIGGER

ST. LOUIS—In 1949 coal mines producing over 200,000 tons yearly accounted for 40 per cent of the national output. In 1948 the proportion was 66 per cent.

Report American Disappears In City Of Vienna

VIENNA, Feb. 3.—(INS)—U. S. authorities disclosed Friday that Richard S. Winter, Jr., 26, of Winton, Conn., has disappeared in Vienna.

This is the second time in two weeks that authorities have reported the mysterious disappearance of an American in the city occupied by four powers.

Winter's father, a New York exporter, arrived Tuesday to aid the investigation. His son has not been heard from since last September but authorities only now suspect foul play. There is the usual speculation whether the Russians are responsible.

Authorities announced Jan. 18 they were without clues in the case of Robert Wilson, 23, of Los Angeles. Both he and Winter arrived in Vienna from Paris listed as tourists and suddenly dropped from sight.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Teen-agers will be wearing healthy hats — vitamin-enriched — this Spring.

Richard Englander, a top trend-setter in millinery for the youth set, is introducing a garden patch motif in his new collection.

He shows a head-hugging "radish hat," with radish trim of course. A pillbox with a three carrot cluster on top. An "onion head" number which has a bulbous, peaked crown shaped like the vegetable of the same name.

For sub-debs with sweeter tastes, Englander has a succulent selection of fruity hats: Little caps and cloches decorated with firmly anchored or dangling clumps of peaches, pears, bananas and apricots.

Most fetching of them all is the eggplant model, an oblong affair which comes to a rounded peak behind the crown. Arising from the peak, on a little stem, is a single glamorous green leaf!

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Tinkle-Tinkle

Two-year-old Judy was very happy. "I make music, too," she chortled as she went around the house shaking both her hands. For Judy's mother had read how easy it was to sew small bells securely to broad strips of elastic band which are then slipped over a child's wrists.

Too often we forget that the beginning forms of music are very simple. Beating out the rhythm on a block of wood, an aluminum pan or almost anything else gives the young child a feeling of taking part in music. Shaking bells or tapping glasses filled with water to different heights so that varied tones can be made are but two of the many other ways in which children of the earliest years can make music.

Mothers and fathers will do well to take a leaf out of the book of those who teach young children. One of the pleasant activities of nursery school and kindergarten is this rhythmic musical play. And if you want more ideas, ask your child's teacher. She is almost certain to be able to give you other good suggestions.

Contributions Being Made To Heart Fund

The 1951 Western Pennsylvania Heart Fund has been swelled by three contributions of $100 each donated by the Chevrolet Keystone company, Bessemer Limestone and Cement company and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Crawford Hoyt.

In announcing the gifts Calvin L. Rasey, Lawrence County campaign chairman, said that they were the largest received to date in the February drive.

The local Heart Fund drive, with a goal set at $10,000 is part of the national campaign of the American Heart association and its affiliates to support research, education, and community cardiac services to combat heart disease. The major portion of the funds raised remains in the community to assist in maintaining and expanding much-needed heart program.

"This generous contribution gives stimulus to our campaign," Mr. Rasey said. "It is a splendid example of public spirited awareness of the challenge of heart disease, the leading cause of death and disability in our city."

"A contribution to the 1951 Heart Fund is neither a tax, but an investment in better health."

V.F.W. Condemns Closing Of Part Of Deshon Hospital

At a regular meeting Thursday night, of VFW Post 315, a resolution was adopted condemning the closing of the medical and surgical section of the Deshon veterans hospital.

Members of the local post decided that the closing of this medical section would prove a hardship for those throughout the New Castle area and would place a burden on those at the Aspinwall hospital.

Other business include the forming of a blood bank committee which will cooperate with the Red Cross and medical division of civil Defense in building a list of potential donors. For emergency preparedness, the Post has scheduled meetings with both groups. Also, a membership to the GNCA, now in the process of an expansion drive, was endorsed. Donations were voted to both the Red Cross and the March of Dimes.
